Dear Reader,

European technology companies have undeniably entered the global stage to compete with tech from Silicon Valley. While the United States is still home to 4 times as many tech companies worth more than 1 billion USD, Europe is catching up at speed and breeding unicorns faster than the US ever did. The growth rate of new European unicorns in 2021 outpaced the rate of its peers overseas by 2.7x, and in terms of total number of unicorns, Europe finishes 2021 comparable to the US level of 2019.

The report in your hands sheds light on Europe’s most promising companies creating impact well beyond the continent’s borders. It’s a summary about the status quo, but even more so an outlook of what to expect in the months and years to come. We are excited to be a part of this journey.

DATA METHODOLOGY
The information used to compile the European Unicorn & Soonicorn Report was collected using utmost diligence, with a research freeze on Jan 20th, 2022. The data is based on two sources. Firstly, declarations made to us directly by European investors in response to an outreach. Secondly, extensive research to identify unicorns and soonicorns across Europe using sources such as media articles, websites and others.

DEFINITION EUROPEAN UNICORN
A European Unicorn in this report is a tech company with a valuation of at least 1 billion USD that is still predominantly privately owned. Its valuation was either achieved in an equity financing round or, in the case of a company that has not raised any equity funding to date, has been calculated based on financial performance indicators and multiples and/or is based on the evaluation of investors or potential buyers.

DEFINITION EUROPEAN SOONICORN
While data on European unicorns can be researched with reasonable effort, data on Soonicorns is all the more difficult to come by. We have thus asked European VCs and PEs to provide us with the names of the investments in their portfolio they believe will be able to achieve unicorn status within the next 24 months. While this evaluation is certainly more subjective, we believe this effort resulted in a list of very promising and high-growth European companies, and reveals interesting insights in any case.

DEFINITION EXITED EUROPEAN UNICORN
For an exited European Unicorn this report considered all companies that have reached a valuation of at least 1 billion USD at one point but are not privately owned or operating anymore. Their valuation was either achieved in an equity financing round, a public listing, or an acquisition.

Location
To be considered in this report, both Unicorns and Soonicorns have to be founded and to this date still be headquartered in a European country (see country list below).

UNICORNS

The European Tech Ecosystem is developing at a rapid pace - in 2021 faster than it ever did. With 85 new unicorns created in 2021, Europe currently counts 132 tech companies with a valuation of at least 1bn USD that are still predominantly privately owned and in total have created over 135,000 jobs with a combined valuation of more than EUR 370bn. Comparing numbers to the historical development of unicorns in the US, Europe’s total account has almost reached the level of US unicorns in 2020.

SOONICORNS

While data on unicorns can be researched online with reasonable effort (no worries, we have still summarized facts, figures and insights for you in this report), we were wondering what the years to come hold in store for Europe’s unicorn club and found it even more interesting to take a closer look at the soon-to-become unicorns (we call them soonicorns). Realizing that this data is much harder to find, we have asked European Venture Capital Funds to name the soonicorn candidates in their portfolio, and added the ones we think have the potential to reach a valuation of 1bn+ within the next 24 months. Our efforts result in a list of 253 names that we’re excited to share with you, combined with some interesting trends that data allows us to conclude. Take a look at the average distance between the soonicorns and unicorns covered in this report.

FORMER UNICORNS

While we focus on looking into the future, we also want to put some of your attention to companies that have once been unicorns, but are no longer privately owned because they have exited, or more likely, went public. These companies have continued to significantly shape Europe’s tech environment and have on average 2x the amount of employees than current unicorns. They continue to be strong innovators and deserve their place in this report.

EUROPE’S FASTEST UNICORNS

The speed at which some companies have gone from 0 to 1 billion is astonishing, and Germany has in particular stood out as Europe’s fastest breeding ground, with the Top 4 fastest European unicorns ever created originating from Berlin.
UNICORN BREEDING HOTSPOTS

The UK, Germany, France, Sweden and Austria are home to the most European unicorns. Will soonicorns in the pipeline change this ranking any time soon?

INVESTOR INSIGHTS

Europe’s Venture Capital ecosystem has continued to grow every year, yet our data shows that 48% of all investors on unicorn cap tables currently originate from outside of Europe, predominantly the US. This shows that Non-European funding is almost equally important for high-valued homegrown tech companies as local capital.

Looking at the investor origin for soonicorns and unicorns per region in Europe, we see a coherent picture and little regional difference.

INVESTOR ORIGIN EUROPEAN VS. NON-EUROPEAN

Distribution of Investors on Unicorn and Soonicorn Cap Tables per Region

www.europeanunicornmap.com
Looking at the distribution of European venture capital per region, we see that all funds have a strong preference to invest in uni- and soonicorns in the region they are headquartered in.

Distribution of European Investors on Unicorn and Soonicorn Cap Tables

Based on Investor HQ

- x-axis shows regional cap tables
- y-axis shows share of investors from each of the regions

THE INFLUENCE OF FOREIGN INVESTORS

Around 40% of all investors in Europe’s highest valued tech companies (48% on unicorn cap tables, 39% on soonicorn cap tables) originate from outside of Europe. Looking at foreign origins in more detail, 76% of funds are headquartered in the US. China and Russia rank in second and third place for foreign investor nationality with about a 3% stake each. Other countries such as Singapore (1.7%) and Israel (1.0%) follow with small numbers.

FOREIGN INVESTOR ORIGIN

- US-based Investors
- Other Foreign Investors

Distribution of Foreign Investors on Unicorn and Soonicorn Cap Tables

While the impact of US funds on European uni- and soonicorn cap tables is mostly coherent across regions, Benelux stands out with a share of only 62% US investors and a stronger appearance from Russia (7.5%) and China (6%). The most dominant region for US investors is Northern Europe.

REGIONAL HIGHLIGHTS

UK & Ireland
UK & Ireland produced by far the most valuable companies with an astonishing combined unicorn valuation of EUR 138 bn. That’s more than 38% of Europe’s entire unicorn value.

Northern Europe
Northern Europe is home to Europe’s most valuable unicorn - Klarna (Sweden). With a valuation of EUR 37.4 bn, half of the region’s EUR 74 bn in combined valuation comes from the FinTech champion.

Benelux
What stands out in this region is a strong focus on Future Mobility & Supply Chain. 30% of all soonicorns operate in this vertical - the largest share across Europe.

Eastern Europe
While ranking last in terms of total numbers of unicorns, the region is still home to relatively large unicorn companies. With a median valuation of EUR 2.7 bn and 2,000 employees, it’s one of the leading regions when it comes to the size of its unicorns.

DACH - Germany, Austria, Switzerland
The DACH region has seen the most tech startup jobs created across Europe. Over 70,000 talents are working in sooni- and unicorns in this region.

Southern Europe
This region is home to the youngest soonicorn companies with an average age of 7 years and 8 months. Not surprisingly, they show the lowest average valuation for soonicorns at EUR 183 m but could prove to have the highest unrealized potential within Europe.

The information used to compile the European Unicorn & Soonicorn Report was collected using utmost diligence, with a research freeze on Jan 20th, 2022. The data is based on two sources. Firstly, declarations made to us directly by European investors in response to an outreach. Secondly, extensive research to identify unicorns and soonicorns across Europe using sources such as media articles, websites and others.

This is version 1.2 - edited on April 7th 2022
The data freeze for version 1.1 was Jan 20th 2022.
